It Didn't Matter. A bluff old farmer with a loud voice got in at a little station and walked down the aisle looking for a friendly face or a kindly eye, but not seeing any he asked the most sour looking man on the car to move over and give him a seat. The fellow did so, but with a manner that indicated that the old man was anything but welcome. The old farmer wanted to talk, and tried in every way to engage his seatmate in conversation, but the through passenger would have houe of it. He turned his shoulder to the farmer and gazed out of the window with a bored expression on his face. The old farmer was determined to draw him out, and after several ineffectual efforts raised his voice loud enough to be heard all over the car

She'll Never Tell.

The last act was just closing at the Lyceum the other evening, and the actors and actresses were grouping for their final bow ensemble. In the house the ladies were putting on their gloves and getting their hats ready. A young man and a young lady well toward the front overheard this conversation:

these on. They're awfully tight."
"Oh, yes you can, Nell. Try again."
Nell evidently tried again, for there

new shoes to the theater. They hurt me so that I simply had to take them off, and now they won't go on again.

The remainder of the agony was lost in the applause which greeted the fall of the curtain. All that history records of the denouement of the interesting story is that a woman was noticed going down the aisie with a pair of shoes under her arm. Whether she and Nell were one and the same is not certain. If so, how she got out of the difficulty is not told. It was raining, and perhaps she wore her rubbers. But this only she and her friend know, and it is safe to say that she at least will never tell.-Detroit Free Press.

And if I tell him the sun is shining brightly Judge Marshall will sometimes reply, 'All the better, for our jurisdiction extends over so large a territory that the doctrine of chances makes it certain that it must be raining somewhere."

One on the Minister.

A distinguished Massachusetts clergyman tells a story at his own expense. He was on a tramp through the White mountains with another clergyman for a companion. One day they mounted the driver's seat of a stagecoach. As is often the case, the stage driver was an interesting character, whose conversation abounded in good stories. The three speedily became friendly, and it was with reluctance that they parted at the end of the journey. "I'm glad to hev met yer fellers," said the driver on leaving them; "yer see, I haven't seen a man this summer-only ministers.'

and healthy conflition. In thousands of cases motherhood has been divested of all its dangers and a large proportion of its pain by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is the most marvelous remedy ever discovered for restoring complete organic health and strength to the delicate special structure involved in motherhood. Taken early during the prospective time it makes the mother strong, energetic and cheerful and carries her through the period of trial with comparative comfort and case. It increases the baby's natural, constitutional vigor and adds to the joys of motherhood the supreme satisfaction of a strong, robust, lusty infant. "Favorite Prescription" is most the best supportive tonic for marsing mothers. Every expectant mother will appreciate what is said by Mrs. Fannie M. Harry, of Galesburg, Ills., (545 Churchill Ave.) In a letter to Dr. Pierce she write: "I have used your needs lines in my family for a Churchill Ave.) In a letter to Di. Pierce she writes. The Captain's Sentiment. "We'd had a brush with the Indians on No Man's creek," said the cavalry

sergeant, "and had driven them out of the cottonwoods, when we caught sight of a warrior trying to work in on our left flank. Three or four of the boys turned loose on him and drove him off, but he was soon replaced by two others. They were beaten off to be replaced by five or six. We couldn't at first make out what they were up to, but by and by we discovered that their objective point was a thicket on our front center. Then it was easy to conclude that some

The dread and fore-boding which almost invariably comes over a young wife, just cre the advent of the first warrior of prominence was in that thicket, dead or wounded, and that the object was to carry him off. "Our captain gave orders to cease firing. He wanted those redskins to understand that Company D had too much honor to fire upon a wounded for and too much mercy to shoot down those who would carry away the dead for burial. We lay there and let the Indians dash up with a yell, and two minutes later, as they rode off with whoops and cheers, we were all shakon our great railway lines may be indicated by a few data of the work performed by these parts when the locomotive is worked at high speed. Thus, in the case of a passenger engine at 60 miles an hour, a driving wheel of 51/9 feet diameter revolves five times every second, and, this being so, the reciproceeting parts of each cylinder, including one piston rod, crosshead and connecting rod, weighing about 650 pounds, but I have back and forth a distance equal to the stroke, say 2 feet, every time the wheel revolves, or in the fifth of a second; this weight starts from a state of rest at the end of each stroke of the piston and must acquire a velocity of 32 feet per second in one-twentieth of a second, and must be brought to a state of rest in the same period of time. A piston 18 inches in diameter has an area of 2541/2 square inches; steam of 150 pounds pressure per square inch would therefore exert a force on the piston equal to 38,175 pounds, which force is applied alternately on each side of the piston ten times in a second.-Chicago Inter Ocean.

take a few minutes' sleep, preferably directly after the noon meal," writes Edward B. Wurman in The Ladies' Home Journal. "The time given to it may seem too precious for one in business, but it will be more than compencondition that follows. Sit in an easy chair. Lying down directly after a meal crowds the digestive organs and makes one's sleep restless instead of restful. Rest the head comfortably. Tip the chair to a pleasant angle for the body, not enough to have the weight of the body on the back. Place the feet on a chair as high or a trifle higher than the one upon which you are sitting; cross the limbs at the ankle joints, close the bands together by interlacing the fingers, place the fleshy part of the thumbs together in order to avoid grasping the hands too tightly and close the eyes. Having thus closed the circuit, it will be necessary to relieve yourself of all nervous and muscular tension. Think only of your slow, measured breathing and the desire for a restful sleep."

A SUBSTITUTE FOR A KNOCKOUT.

President McKinley invited Admiral Dawey to take a run with him to Onio on a campaign harrah, but the Admiral declined the intended honor. The entautiant which would ) ave attended the presence of the Admiral basement Thursday afternoon. would have been without seeming effort transferred to McKinley and the Republican party. The best laid plans of men and mice are offen given a knockout that cannot be recovered from, and some other matter in the program is substituted to provide entainment. To keep up appearances, shortly after Dewey's knockout was given, the President and party boarded form of a sali upon federal office holders at Washington to pungle whatever usual with farce-comedies. there was loose in their clothes, that would represent the coin of the realm, to support the Ohio Republican campaign, which, according to Republican methods, is a never failing substitute round defeat.

It is against law to enter any federal office and solicit money from a tederal office holder to and in political campaign work, but the entrance to a federal office part of the law is, without street, San Francisco. infringement upon the letter, avoided by sending a circular letter to the officer, expressing the need of the party of receiving his kind offices in the shape of dollars, which reminder it is not likely will be overlooked by the poor fellows on small salaries, while the President is in Onio supporting still free to room the sagebrush ing the Republican side of the campaigu.

The whine made to the office holders at Washington is that in the event the naughty Democrats abould get control in Ohio, they will call an extra session of the legislature and change the congressional districts in the State that are now set as Republican congressional traps in such a manner that the delegation from Ohio to Congress) will be changed by setting congressioual Democrat traps. In the political history of Ohio it appears in plain English that Ohio Demiocrats have tricked Onio Republicana in that way paign

Tue saying, "a burned child dreads the fire," is so applicable to many particulars in life that it is illustrated JOURNAL, Reno: by the fear of Ohio Republicans that the Democrate will do the same thing again, which they will be sure to do if they have the opportunity.

The call by the President and Ohio Republicans upon the poor federal office bolders at Washington should receive some explanation, because of the many resources that are at their command. The assessment levied salaries from six hundred to one thousand dollare per year, is not just when the money power of Europe and America is supporting the Republican party. What is the matter with Hanna, that he is not around to take fluencial charge? The correct answer, in low drainage. cause the campaign is in Onto, and Hanns, for that reason, must keep shoddy, is not a sufficient explanation for assessing the poor clerks, while the money power, represented by national banks, boards of trade, boards of commerce and trusts innumerable, are sources that the Republican party can rely on when in need of money to buy a campaign,

There is a nigger in the woodpile, or money matters would be on a more Comstock dumps as soon as electric aure basis with Onio Republicans. The clerks have been assessed for Ohio Republican campaign expenses in the long past; but the necessity for Fred and Pete know how to handle assessing the poor fellows has been that refreshing beverage. removed for such a period of time that a renewal of the bad work is a surprise to many, who would like to learn the cause of such wickedness by our good Methodist President and the Ohio

Republicane. When the clerks were last assessed for ObioRepublican campaign purposes the European money power had not been connected by cable with the money power of New York, Boston and other money centers in the United States. It was not known at that time that silver had been demonstrzed, and then there were no frusts, national banks or European money syndicates to draw upon for Republican campaign uses. Hanna's absence from the fluancial department in Ohio baving been fully and satisfactorily explained, there is only one interpretation that can be given to the action of the President, when he ordered the poor clerks to be assessed, and that is that the money power never permits an opportunity to pass when a levy on the poor can be successfully made, and as there is only one State to be boull the clerks are required to furnish the means that is levied beyond the State's lines.

The above explanation may not be received as authority by our Republican friende, as it is well understood that they do not accept the statements of the enemy when they are true, which refusal to accept the truth gives assurunce that they are faithful to Mammon when their leaders are in its corvice.
